

Cam Valley Wildlife Group Insect Project

Project Leader: Deborah Porter

Project aims: To build a database of records of insects and other invertebrates in the Cam Valley Wildlife Group area; to develop expertise in insect identification; to develop understanding of insect ecology; to aid the conservation of insects in our area.

Project activities:

- Carrying out surveys in the area
- Encouraging others to submit records
- Compiling a database from the surveys and records submitted
- Exchanging records with local records centres, and national and regional conservation organisations
- Field trips and 'bug hunts'
- Creation of, and involvement in, initiatives and projects with insect conservation objectives

How to get involved:

Contact Deborah via camvalleywildlife@gmail.com or on 01761 435563

Website: <https://cvwg.org.uk>

Drawing: Rufous-shouldered Longhorn beetle by Ann Mead – not to be reproduced without permission